Call for papers for the Twentieth issue of the Journal for European Issues "Evrodijalog"

Deadline for submitting articles: 20 October 2015.

"Evrodijalog" is a bi-annual publication of CRPRC Studiorum. The journal aims to promote objective, critical and analytical thinking on issues related to accession and membership in the European Union.

For this issue of "Evrodijalog", we encourage authors to submit articles where they can express their creativity in a wide range of topics related to different aspects of the Macedonian approximation towards European Union, and the perspectives of that national project for joining the EU. However, the topics should be in the range of questions related to EU issues in the fields of law, economy, public administration, international relations, political sciences, communication, new technologies and the society, energy issue, environment, health, and all other relevant fields, giving priority to research topics directly relevant from the perspective of the Copenhagen criteria and focused on analysis and case studies regarding the needs and requirements derived from the EU acquis communautaire.

The selected articles will be published in the twentieth edition of "Evrodijalog", which will be published in digital form on CD, in Macedonian and English language.
